Create a new festival

There are beggars all over the world so what I would like to do is create a cooking festival. This should be a yearly event.

In this festival, there would be a cooking competition. There will be 100 competitors. These competitors are going to cook international cuisines, such as Thai, Japanese, Spanish, Italian, Chinese food, etc.

The winner of the competition will receive US$10,000 plus a winner's trophy. The second place will get US$5,000 and a trophy and the third place will get US$3,000 and a trophy. All other competitors will receive US$1,000 plus a Certificate of Appreciation for their efforts and spirit of competition.

The whole point of this competition is to let the winner and competing chefs cook delicious dishes for the beggars because they would otherwise neither have a chance to taste nor the opportunity to sample such fine international food as prepared by world-famous chefs.

All the competitors will in the end donate some money to charity to help reduce poverty and give back to society.

What do you think you need to do before you graduate?

Many people think graduate is just a time to say goodbye to who you hate. However, the people who said this sentence, when they graduated few weeks later, they must regret it. They found that they couldn't forget their teachers, classmates and friends. When they wanted to take back which they lost, it was too late.

Therefore, I think I need to do something before I graduate. First, I need to say thank you to my classmates, teachers and friends. I need to close my eyes because I need to say that sentence even they treated me badly before.

Second, I need to do some actions to thank such as helping teachers and teaching my classmates to do the homework.

Third, I need to take photos with my teachers, classmates and friends. Maybe you think I am silly but when I grow up, I can still remember the faces.

If you become a famous people but you have forgotten your teachers, classmates and friends already, what does that mean? If your teachers didn't teach you before, how can you behave well? If you have never suffered from the others, e.g. laugh and play tricks on you, how can you be stronger? If you do not have friends' support, how can you complete your dream?

Your teachers, classmates and your friends are important in your life. Spend some times to think of them and try to thank them before you graduate.

My favourite book character

My favourite book character is Mal who is the daughter of Maleficent. She was evil at first but she became good in the end. You may be confused that Maleficent was dead ages ago. How come is she still alive? I can answer your question. Maleficent was not died so are the other villains such as Evil Queen, Jafar, Gaston, Cruella De Vil and more. They have children like Mal, some of them are not evil anymore. There are two places, Auradon and The Isle of the Lost. Auradon is ruled by Queen Belle and King Beast. Auradon is the place where the good people live like Audrey, the daughter of Aurora and Chad, the son of Cinderlla. The Isle of the Lost is the place where the villains live where is very disgusting and dirty.

So why do I like Mal? It is because she is confident and active like me! Also she is brave and perseverance. She likes being good than being evil. She turned her mom into a gecko for being good.

I hope Mal continues to follow her dreams and be more confident than she is now. I also hope all the villains will be good like Mal in the story!
